

OmniClass License Rev 2014-10-15

As expressed in the September 2000 Statement of Intent for Development of the Overall Construction Classification System, OmniClass is intended to be an open standard, freely available to all. Although the system is free to acquire and use, there are some conditions of its use designed to protect the efforts that have gone into OmniClass development and its integrity and uniformity as a standard. CSI (hereinafter “The Secretariat” “the Secretariat for the OmniClass Development Committee” or “The OmniClass Secretariat”) in its role as Secretariat for the OmniClass Development Committee will retain and enforce the copyright on OmniClass with regard to these limits on licensure.

By using, copying, and/or implementing all or any part of OmniClass, you (“licensee” or “user”) agree that you have read, understood, and will comply with the following Terms and Conditions:

- 1) Intellectual property rights are held for the OmniClass Development Committee by the Secretariat; all rights are reserved. Implementation or use of OmniClass does not imply any transfer of any intellectual property rights to the licensee.
- 2) Permission to use, copy, implement, or distribute the contents of OmniClass in any medium for any purpose without fee or royalty is hereby granted, with the following restrictions:
 - a) OmniClass numbers and titles must be presented without deviation (excepting formatting changes or inclusion or exclusion of spaces from numbers) from their presentation in the OmniClass tables presented on <http://www.omniclass.org>. The licensee will not present OmniClass numbers and titles in a way that implies or suggests that they reflect the content of any other classification system. Any deviation from or addition to the numbers and titles as presented in the OmniClass publication will render this license invalid.
 - b) With the exception of addition of numbers and titles as discussed in c) below, no right to create modifications or altered versions of OmniClass is granted pursuant to this license. The OmniClass Development Committee may grant specific and limited licenses for modifications or alterations on an individual basis. Visit the OmniClass website (<http://www.omniclass.org/>) for email addresses and other contact information.
 - c) In order to allow OmniClass to meet the needs of licensees to classify content that may not yet be addressed by standard OmniClass numbers and titles, licensees are granted the right to add classification content to OmniClass in their local implementation with the following limitations:
 - i) Licensee shall perform research to ensure that any content added by them locally is not already represented by a standard classification in OmniClass.
 - ii) Licensee shall add the new classification in an appropriate location within OmniClass, identifying both the correct table and the correct location within the table for the added classification.

- iii) Licensee shall ensure that the number is correct for the added classification's location in OmniClass and that the title of the added classification fully describes the scope and content of the added classification.
 - iv) Licensee shall develop a description to properly define and describe the content and conceptual limits of the added classification.
 - v) Licensees shall communicate any local additions to OmniClass back to the OmniClass Secretariat in the form of a proposal for addition to OmniClass. This proposal shall contain number, title, description and rationale for addition, as well as any other information that may be of interest to the OmniClass Development Committee or its Working Groups. Licensee shall send this proposal by email to omniclass@csinet.org or by any other means made available for providing commentary on OmniClass or communicating with the OmniClass Secretariat.
 - vi) Following resolution of this proposal by the OmniClass Development Committee, licensee shall update and harmonize any local additions of content put forward with the resolution of those submitted proposals.
 - vii) As a general rule of practice, it is recommended though not required that any such added content be noted or marked by licensees in some way in their local implementation so that content can easily be recalled for coordination with the resolution of the addition and submitted proposal by the OmniClass Development Committee content review process.
- d) OmniClass can be used or implemented for nonprofit (research and development or personal) or commercial uses. Within the context of these license terms, commercial uses or purposes are defined as any presentation (including online and educational presentations) or sale of a product or service using the OmniClass numbers and titles, or the application of the OmniClass numbers and titles in a product based on or using OmniClass, for the purpose of generating revenue for a profit.
 - e) OmniClass itself may not be resold by any user in any form without explicit licensure to do so from the Secretariat.
 - f) Credit shall be provided for OmniClass and the OmniClass Development Committee on any implementation or republication of OmniClass, by including, where possible:
 - i) A web-link or reproduction of the URL to the OmniClass website (<http://www.omniclass.org>).
 - ii) The following copyright notice: "Copyright © 2014 the Secretariat for the OmniClass Development Committee. All Rights Reserved. <http://www.omniclass.org>"
 - iii) The version, release date, and status of the OmniClass documents that you are implementing or republishing.

THIS DOCUMENT (OmniClass) IS PROVIDED "AS IS," AND COPYRIGHT HOLDERS MAKE NO REPRESENTATIONS OR WARRANTIES, EXPRESS OR IMPLIED, INCLUDING, BUT NOT LIMITED TO, WARRANTIES OF MERCHANTABILITY, FITNESS FOR A PARTICULAR PURPOSE, NON-INFRINGEMENT, OR TITLE; THAT THE CONTENTS OF THE DOCUMENT ARE SUITABLE FOR ANY PURPOSE; NOR THAT THE IMPLEMENTATION OF SUCH CONTENTS WILL NOT INFRINGE ANY THIRD PARTY PATENTS, COPYRIGHTS, TRADEMARKS OR OTHER RIGHTS.

Some OmniClass tables are based on or derived in part or in whole from other copyrighted standards and publications. The above terms of license do not extend to licensure of these "legacy sources." The copyright holders of those publications should be contacted separately for use or license of their standards and publications.

The name and trademarks of CSI, Construction Specifications Canada (CSC), or the OmniClass Development Committee may not be used in advertising or publicity without specific, written prior permission to do so obtained from the OmniClass Secretariat. Title to copyright in OmniClass will at all times remain with the OmniClass copyright holder.

This version of the OmniClass license supersedes any previous versions.
